1st Canada-China High-Level National Security and Rule of Law Dialogue

Joint Communiqué

On September 12, 2016, Wang Yongqing, Secretary-General of the Central Political and Legal Affairs Commission of the Communist Party of China, and Daniel Jean, National Security Advisor to the Prime Minister of Canada, co-chaired in Beijing the inaugural meeting of the Canada-China High-Level National Security and Rule of Law Dialogue. The Dialogue, supported by relevant ministries and agencies of both countries, was established by Canadian and Chinese Leaders during the visit to China of Canada's Prime Minister Justin Trudeau between August 30 and September 6, 2016.

The two sides established the dialogue's Terms of Reference, and set out the dialogue's structure and framework for future cooperation. In addition, the two sides had detailed discussions on how to improve cooperation on a wide range of issues including counter-terrorism; cyber security and combatting cybercrime; combatting transnational organized crime; law enforcement issues; consular issues; and judicial cooperation and exchanges on rule of law. The discussions established the direction for future cooperation and provided high-level strategic guidance to existing relevant dialogues. Both sides stated their intention to enhance bilateral national security and rule of law cooperation and promote coordination and communication internationally, with a view to jointly addressing global threats.

The two sides determined that the short-term objectives for Canada-China cooperation on security and rule of law are to: start discussions on an Extradition Treaty and a Transfer of Offenders Treaty as well as other related matters; pursue discussions on cyber security and cybercrime cooperation; complete work related to the signing of the Agreement Between Canada and the People's Republic of China on Sharing and Return of Forfeited Assets; renew the Canada-China MOU Concerning Cooperation in Combating Crime between the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the Ministry of Public Security of China; and finalize negotiation of a one year MOU on the Pilot Project between the Canada Border Services Agency and the Bureau of Exit and Entry Administration where Chinese experts will be invited to assist in the verification of the identity of inadmissible persons from mainland China in order to facilitate their return from Canada to China.

Hi all:

As requested by Don and Lucie, I have sketched out a draft note and related Annex for your review and comment. Some areas identified in red particularly need further information from Janet and Laura.

As the e-mails were not clear I have put it into the note to the DM in a "For approval" format but it can be easily changed into a note "For information", if that is preferred.

I also attach two versions of the Annex A (track change and clean) as it is based on the earlier note by Laura (and GAC). However, I suggest we work from the clean version for ease of work.

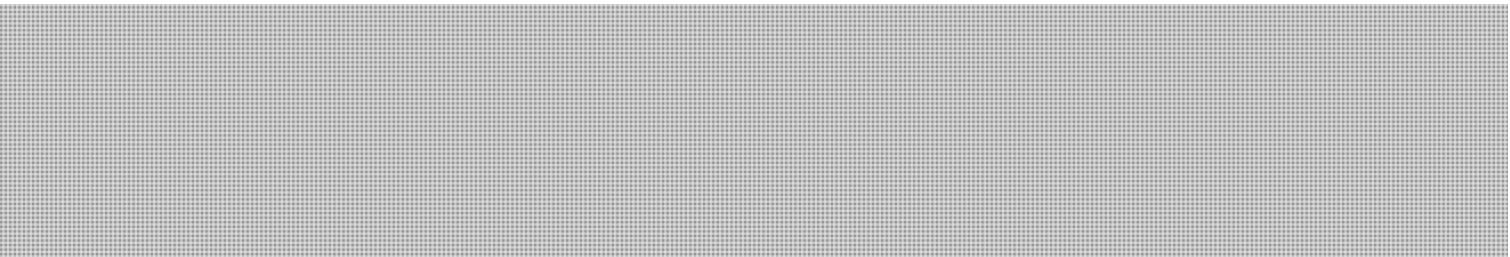

Given the 3 hour time change, I am sending this now and will check in with you around noon EST tomorrow (Monday).

Thanks in advance,
Annemieke

Beijing, Ottawa to work out an extradition treaty

Updated: 2016-09-13 12:32

China and Canada agreed on Monday to start discussions on a bilateral extradition treaty that would facilitate the return of corrupt fugitive Chinese officials who remain at large in Canada.

The agreement was reached at the China-Canada High-Level National Security and Rule of Law Dialogue in Beijing, where discussions were held on ways to improve cooperation on issues such as law enforcement, combating transnational organized crime, judicial cooperation and exchanges on the rule of law.

In depth talks of an extradition treaty and the signing of an agreement on sharing the recovered stolen assets will occur in the coming months, while negotiations are finalized on a yearlong memorandum of understanding on a pilot project in which Chinese experts will be invited to help identify Chinese immigrants who use fraudulent means to enter Canada.

"The start of such a discussion is a positive sign preparing the way for formal negotiations on the bilateral extradition treaty," said Zhang Xiaoming, deputy director-general of the Judicial Assistance and Foreign Affairs Department at the Ministry of Justice.

Huang Feng, a law professor at Beijing Normal University said, "It marks great progress toward formally signing in the near future a bilateral extradition treaty between the two countries."

"The two countries do not have major political or legal obstacles and have established good cooperative foundation, which will help them to communicate effectively and exchange views on signing an extradition treaty," he said.

66 It marks great progress toward formally signing in the near future a bilateral extradition treaty between the two countries."

Huang Feng, a law professor at Beijing Normal University

In recent years, the United States, Canada, Australia and Singapore have become popular destinations for corrupt fugitive Chinese officials. They lack bilateral extradition treaties and have legal differences with China, complicating their return, according to the Ministry of Public Security.

Many such fugitives have transferred billions of illegally acquired yuan to foreign accounts via money laundering and underground banks, the ministry said.

Since April, when Interpol issued alerts for the capture of 100 major fugitive Chinese officials and confiscate their illegal assets, seven corrupt officials have been returned from Canada for trial.

Huang said that Chinese judicial officials have found their best law enforcement cooperation with their counterparts in Canada. Among the fugitives Canada helped repatriate for trial was Gao Shan, former head of a sub-branch of Bank of China in Harbin, Heilongjiang province.

Gao was suspected of embezzling more than 800 million yuan ($129 million) in 2004 and pleaded guilty to judicial authorities in 2012, eight years after fleeing to Canada.

Zhang, of the Justice Ministry, said that although a good beginning has been made, many legal procedures need to be worked out for a bilateral extradition treaty.

Huang said, the practical challenge facing Chinese judicial authorities is that many fugitive Chinese suspects have obtained permanent residence in Canada, so the first step is "to improve judicial cooperation with Canada regarding the fugitive suspects and revoke their Canadian green cards, to be able to repatriate them for trial."
